I have to-day received from Philadelphia three lots of VELVETS to sell at $2.50, $3.50 and $4 a yard.

These Velvets were manufactured expressly for the Centennial Exhibition, and finished with special care, and I guarantee them to be the finest goods of that class imported.

I have purchased these goods far below their value, as the exhibitor determined to sell at any price rather than return them to Lyons.

We invite you to call and examine before purchas ing elsewhere, as we offer extraordinary bargains.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Conclusion Yesterday's Proceedings. SENATE .- Arter the reading of the mes Mr. Edmunds demanded the yeas and nays on the passage of his resolution, but yielded to Mr. Withers to offer a resolution calling upon the President to inform the Senate, if not incompatible with the interests of the government, under what authority, and for what purpose, United States troops were stationed in the city of Petersburg; Va., on the 7th of November last, the day of the Presithe city of Petersburg: Va., on the dential election. Ordered printed and laid on After debate, Mr. Whyte said he should ask for a division of the question, and should vote against the first resolution, as he accepted the dec sion of the Supreme Court upon that question, but he would vote for the second sesolution, to investigate the matter, for he wanted prompt action and the most thorough inquiry into the late election. Mr. Merr mon offered an amendment to add to the end of the first resolution, that the inquiry shall ascertain whether the r ghts aforesaid have been abridged by the constitution of any of the states mentioned. The vote was taken by yeas and nays, and lost.

Mr. Bogy moved to amend by striking out the preamble; which amendment was lost. Mr. McDonald moved to amend by striking out the first clause to the preamble, which relates to the apportionment of representa tives as contained in the second section of the 14th amendment.

Mr. Edmunds hoped the Senators would allow the constitution to rema n in the preamble; surely on a vote by yeas and nays. The amendment was lost. The question was divided, and the vote taken by yeas and nays on the first resolution reading: That the committee on privi-leges and elections, when appointed, be, and is hereby instructed to inquire and report as

who was incorrectly reported on his vote on the resolution appointing the southern com-mittees, had the right to have the journal corrected, so as to have his vote recorded as he This decision created considerable exultation on the republican side. Mr. Fuller, Ind., here rose to a correction of the journal, and said that he had voted in the affirmative and his name was not recorded

Exultation on the democratic side. The Speaker said the same course would b pursued as in Mr. Plaisted's case, and that Mr. Fuller's name would be recorded. [As the vote was announced yesterday it was 156 to 68.] The Speaker then voted in the affirmative and declared the resolution passed. [Applause on the democratic side.]

On motion of Mr. Hamilton, Ind., the hour of 2 o'clock on Saturday, December 16, was fixed for announcement of the death and for eulogies upon the life and character of the late Speaker Kerr. At 1:30 o'clock the clerk proceeded to read the annual message of the President of the United States The reading of the message occupied one hour, and the usual number of copies were then ordered to be printed.

The Speaker announced the following as the committees under Mr. Hewitt's resolution of yesterday:

To visit Louisiana—Messrs. Morrison, Ill.; Jenks, Pa.; McMahon, Ohio; Lynde, Wis.; Elackburn, Ky.; Meade, N. Y.; House, Tenn.; Phelps, Conn.; New, Ina.; Ross, N. J.; Town-end, Pa.; Danford, Ohio; Hurlbut, Ill.; Crapo, Mass., and Joyce, Vt.
To visit Florida—Messrs. Thompson, Mass.;
DeBolt, N. Y.; Walling, Ohio; Hopkins, Pa.; Garfield, Ohio, and Dunnell, Minn. The Speaker also appointed Mr. Cochrane, of Pa., on the South Carolina committee, in place of Mr. Stenger, declined.

Mr. Lawrence offered a resolution, which was referred to the committee on education and labor, directing the committee to inquire and report if in any one or more states equal school facilities are not secured to colored and white children alike, and if not to report some law which will secure that end under the fourteenth amendment to the Constitu-The House then, at 2:35 p. m., adjourned.

RESULT OF THREATENING VERMONT WOMAN.—Some time ago Miss Marion Ward a wealthy lady of Milton, Vt., received a letter, the writer of which threatened to burn her buildings or take her life unless she inclosed $1500 to George Hunt, Keeseville, N. Y. Miss Ward handed the letter to her attorney, when whose advice a letter was sent torney, upon whose advice a letter was sent as directed. In the meantime communica-tion was held with the Postmaster at Keese-ville, and the sheriff of Essex county N. Y. ville, and the sheriff of Essex county N. Y., in consequence of which the person who called for the letter was taken into custody. The subsequent trial has just been brought to a close and the respondent has received sentence of five years at Denamora. In the course of the trial it turned out that his true name is John Garland, that he formerly lived at Highgate, Vt. where his relations still ed at Highgate, Vt., where his relations still are, and that he has served a term of eight years in the state prison at Windsor for the crime of horse stealing. FUN ENDED BY A FATAL BULLET .- L. W Neatherlin was going to his ranche on the Cibolo, in Atascosa county, and W. H. Slaughter and several others hove in sight and began to play Indian, just for fun. He took them for Indians and halted, and tied his team, and taking ambuscade awaited the approach to within Spencer rifle range. The bravest warrior dashed ahead of his fellows, and Neatherlin drew a bead on him and shot him through .- [Galveston News.

A Young Man in Troy, N. Y., dreamt last week that he was destined to become a gambler. It made so deep an impression upon him that he went down to his father's store in the morning, built a fire in the stove, swept out the office, wrote a letter to the family, sending kisses to the children, he took off his coat and waistcoat and shot himself.
